

"Our anger is our strength - fight feminist now!"

We will take this anger to the streets again on March 8, 2024. We are angry about the unpaid care work we do and about pay inequalities. We are angry about feminicides and about violence against ourselves and our friends worldwide. We are angry about restrictive legislation about our bodies. bodies. We are angry about austerity policies in the education, health, and social sectors. We are angry about role models, beauty ideals and social societal expectations that oppress us, sexualize us, and make us invisible. We want a good life for everyone. We are fighting for a society based on solidarity without the exploitation of people and nature, in which we collectively care for each other. We are fighting for our spaces and our security and for our voices to be heard. We fight hand in hand with our friends worldwide. Together we stand up and rebel against patriarchal rule. Come to the demonstration on March 8, starting at 3 pm at the Holzmarkt. The march will include a FLINTA*- only block and a family block with childcare. See you on the streets!

FLINTA* stands for women, lesbians, inter-, non-binary, and trans people.

Catcallssofjena

Catcallssofjena is part of the international movement Chalkback, which campaigns against street harassment through public chalk art and digital media. We chalk stories of harassment which were sent to us in the places where they have happened and then post them on social media (@catcallssofjena). The goal is to encourage a dialog and sharing of stories to empower each other and raise public awareness the problems of harassment and discrimination. That is why we are also on the streets on March 8!

Gemeinsam Kämpfen Jena (Fighting Together Jena)

As Gemeinsam Kämpfen - feminist organization for democratic autonomy and self-determination, we refer to the ideas of the Kurdish liberation movement. We are a nationwide organization and want to strengthen and build a broad organization of women, lesbians, trans* and inter* people in connection with feminist struggles worldwide. For us, grassroots democracy, autonomy, and self-determination are not utopias, but concrete emancipatory concepts and goals that we want to achieve in our societies. They have been fought for worldwide and are being lived. The international struggles worldwide can be a role model for us. We see it as fundamental to see ourselves as part of a global struggle against capitalist patriarchy and to recognize our own role in it. Contact: gemeinsamkaempfen_jena@riseup.net feministisch.kreativ.kämpferisch. Jena (feminist.creative.militant. Jena) are the group feministisch.kreativ.kämpferisch. (fkk). We see ourselves as a space for political exchange among FLINTA* and attach great importance to relationships with each other. We reflect together on the influence of certain topics on our attitude and our (global-political) actions and participate in local, left-wing political struggles and actions.

OUR RAGE IS OUR POWER

YaBasta Jena

Inspired by the politics of the Zapatistas, an autonomy movement in southern Mexico, we are building networks of friendship and rebellion. In Jena, we are a small group that shows solidarity with the Zapatistas and is in constant exchange with the German network and the Zapatistas themselves. We are also trying to build local structures based on Zapatismo and organize ourselves collectively as a grassroots group. In 2021, the Zapatistas' trip to Europe was organized together with other groups and we were able to get to know each other's political structures and take a lot from the Zapatistas' ways of life and views for our political being. yabasta-jena@riseup.net

Women Defend Rojava

Women Defend Rojava Jena is an autonomous, feminist and internationalist group from Jena that stands in solidarity with the women's liberation movement in Kurdistan and sees itself as part of the nationwide Women Defend Rojava campaign. Our aim is to carry the voices of women from Kurdistan, the ideas, and universal values of this revolution and at the same time to defend the revolution for gender liberation, grassroots democracy, and ecology with our worldwide resistance! Jin Jiyan Azad!

Feministischer Streik Jena (Feminist Strike Jena)

As Feminist Strike Jena, we have been fighting since 2018 to put care at the centre of our coexistence. Our vision is "The Caring City", which means understanding care work as a project for society as a whole and thinking beyond profits. We demand low-threshold, self-determined and comprehensive access to health and care services for all people. At the same time, we are striving for appropriate remuneration for care professions, such as those in the social and educational services, and are committed to upgrading the status and fairer distribution of domestic and care work. To this end, we are actively campaigning for better working conditions in Jena's daycare centres and are working on our concept for Jena as a "caring city". We meet every Wednesday. If you would like to join us, please send us an e-mail to: frauen_streikjena@riseup.net

Frauenzentrum TOWANDA Jena e.V. (Women's center TOWANDA Jena e. V.)

The Frauenzentrum TOWANDA Jena e. V. has had a clear (queer) feminist orientation since the beginning of its 34 years of work and has set itself the goal of contributing to social peace and advocating a self-determined, non-violent life for women and FLINTA*s. We advocate needs-based support and fair pay for women and FLINTA*s and demand that alternative love and cohabitation relationships be treated equally. We are committed to social change towards equality for all genders. The women's centre TOWANDA Jena e. V. is a shelter, advice and contact point for women and FLINTA*s. We join forces with other like-minded (queer) feminist groups to fight together for a social and solidary society!

AK FemGeo Jena

What do toilets and street names have to do with feminist urban planning? How can science be thought and practiced in a feminist way? Which perspectives should be given a greater voice in social discourse? How can equal opportunity spaces be created? We are an independent, interdisciplinary working group made up of students and lecturers from Friedrich Schiller University. We were founded to deal with feminist interdisciplinary perspectives together and to draw attention to socio-political injustices. We want to look at these from feminist geographical perspectives, analyse them, make them visible and develop practices for action. We use various forms of expression and methods to do this.

The Undogmatische Radikale Linke (URL) is a young political group in Jena that brings together and organizes various currents of the radical left. We fight against exploitation, oppression and right-wing structures and try to bring an anti-capitalist perspective into broad alliances and thus unite struggles. We want to bring anti-fascist and socially just answers to the streets in times of crisis, in Jena and beyond. Nationally, we organize ourselves in the Interventionistischen Linken (IL). As a left-wing grassroots group, we work with as little hierarchy as possible and are open to anyone who is interested. Feel free to contact us at any time or write to url-jena@riseup.net

MSFC Jena

Hello everyone, we are MSFC, which stands for Medical Students for Choice. We are committed to reproductive justice and see ourselves as part of the pro-choice movement. From a series of events to screen printing and papaya workshops at university, we've already got a lot going on! We are particularly interested in self-determined abortions. If you are interested in feminist medical topics and a sweet, motivated group, please come along! Meetings are every two weeks, just ask and join us! ROSA e.V. Jena

ROSA e.V. is a non-profit association that has set itself the goal of thinking about humanitarian aid in a gender-sensitive way and providing safe spaces for women* fleeing their homes. Women* experience gender-related burdens, such as femicide, forced marriage or genital mutilation, which can force them to flee. These women* are not offered consistent protection on current escape routes. ROSA offers women* a mobile contact point to explicitly provide a protected space for their circumstances and burdens. This service is supported by childcare and medical care. The local group in Jena was formed in summer 2023 and has really taken off since fall 2023. Work is underway to establish the first Safer Space in Thuringia to create spaces for joint design and protection in cooperation with the refugee women* in the respective shelters.

FAIRY Jena

FAIRY stands for feminist antifascist intersectional radical youth. We are a group consisting of pupils, trainees, students, and freelancers in and from Jena who stand up against fascism and sexism.

Trans*solidarische Vernetzung Jena (Trans*solidarity networking Jena)

We are the Trans*solidarische Vernetzung. We are a queer group, i.e. we fight for all those people who do not fit into the social norm, for example because they are lesbian, gay, trans or inter. We fight against the heterosexual and binary gender norms. For us, this also means that we are connected to other struggles against standardization, exploitation, and oppression. We are left-wing. We don't want to leave anyone behind, and we want the end of class society.
